ActionFront Opens New Data Recovery Lab in Chicago

Chicago is the newest location in ActionFront's aggressive growth plan.

(Toronto, ON) – June 17, 2003 – ActionFront Data Recovery Labs, the leading company rescuing businesses from data loss, today officially opened their new data recovery facility in Chicago Illinois.

In a continuing plan to bring professional in-lab data recovery services to local markets across North America, this full service facility will target new customers in the mid-west. Chicago has been under-serviced for data recovery, a very specialized and growing computer-industry niche defined as “The process of obtaining usable data from downed computers, servers, backups and corrupted or deleted file sets”. This process is labor intensive, highly technical and performed in a controlled lab environment. Experienced staff members have been recruited from the Chicago area and received extensive technical and business process training at ActionFront's established labs.

“While the mid-west has been a good source of business for ActionFront, our market penetration is strongest in locations where we have local presence such as Toronto, Atlanta and Silicon Valley. We are looking forward to increased business levels from our newest local market” says President Nick Majors.

ActionFront recovers data from downed computers, backups and corrupted or deleted file-sets. Highest success rate, no files=no charge policy and free evaluations for all digital media including hard drives, tape cartridges and multi-drive servers. ISO 9001:2000 certified, ActionFront, serves customers from locations in: Atlanta, Buffalo, Chicago, Santa Clara, Toronto, and Tokyo.
